Indigenisation of Defence Production Towards AatmaNirbhar Bharat

Advitya Bahl

The Government has identified the defence systems, equipments and services sector as a focus area for the 'AatmaNirbhar Bharat' or 'Self-Reliant India' initiative, with a formidable push on the establishment of indigenous manufacturing infrastructure supported by a requisite research and development (R&D) ecosystem. In Budget 2022-23, total allocation under capital outlay of Defence Services was enhanced to Rs 1.52 lakh crore with 68% of capital procurement budget earmarked for domestic industry. In Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi's words, the strides taken by the country's indigenous defence sector is a testament to "New India" - the beginning of a future that will boost India's security, economy, and innovation. There are a number of reasons why India has been focusing on indigenising its defence production:

- To reduce reliance on imports: India emerged as the second-largest importer of arms between 2016 and 2020, with a share of 9.5% of global arms imports. Even so, its imports fell 33% from that between 2011 and 2015. A recent report by the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) attributes this decline to the country's complex procurement procedures and efforts to reduce its dependence on imported weapons. Correspondingly, Russia has been the worst hit by India's decreased share, although it still ranks as the subcontinent's largest arms supplier, delivering 49% of its total imports, ahead of France (18%) and Israel (13%). Interestingly, defence transfers from the US to India declined by 46% as well. India's goal, thus, seems to have been to cut its dependence on other countries for defence systems across the board rather than to pivot from one supplier to the other. This underlines India's resolve to drastically cut down on imports and promote indigenous defence manufacturing and export.

- To reduce costs: Importing defence equipment can be expensive, as it involves paying for the equipment as well as transportation and other associated costs. Indigenising defence production can help reduce these costs and make the country's defense budget more efficient.

- To boost domestic industry: Indigenising defence production can help stimulate the growth of domestic industry, which can create jobs and boost economic growth.

- To enhance technology transfer: Defence production often involves the transfer of advanced technologies, which can help boost the country's overall technological capabilities. Indigenising defence production can help facilitate the transfer of these technologies to domestic firms, which can then be used for other purposes as well.

- To enhance strategic autonomy: By being self-sufficient in terms of its defence needs, a country can have greater strategic autonomy.

Defence Research & Development Organisation (DRDO)

Driving Self Reliance in Defence

Ravi Gupta

A family of about 20,000 strong workforce that includes about 7000 DRDS (Defence Research and Development Service) scientists and over 8000 Defence Research Technical Cadre (DRTC), Defence Research and Development Organisation, popularly known as DRDO, is not just another government organisation. A knowledge generator and a Strategic Science Department, it provides a fertile ground where innovations bloom to turn into technologies, designs, and prototypes that are thoroughly and stringently evaluated to meet the most demanding performance requirements laid down by our country's Armed Forces. Once cleared for induction by the Armed Forces, DRDO leads these technologies, designs and prototypes to production through industry by transferring the know-how to such industries and hand holding them till the production is stabilised. Thus, central to our nation's defence R&D, testing, evaluation and production ecosystem, the DRDO has been the main driving force behind building AatmaNirbharta in defence.

DRDO: Then and Now

Ever since its inception as the Defence Science Organisation (DSO) in 1948 (with mandate limited primarily to advisory roles) and later as DRDO (since 1958), the organisation has been striving for nation building and making India stronger with self reliance in defence technologies. Unlike construction of dams that begin with a giant base, organisations begin like trees from a small seed. Professor Daulat Singh Kothari, an eminent physicist was handpicked by the then Prime Minister to be the first Scientific Advisor to the Ministry of Defence and to set up DSO. The country having recently regained its independence after a long spell of foreign rules lacked the required experience and expertise, knowledge base, industrial base, infrastructure for testing and evaluation - everything had to be done from scratch. Whatever little - ordnance factories, inspectorates etc were present with the Armed Forces / Ministry of Defence, had been created by colonial rulers for their war efforts (WW I and WW II) and were barely able to

Indian Armed Forces Get 'Make in India' Boost

A formidable military, armed with advanced technology and modern weaponry, serves as a shield for a nation, protecting it from external aggression and internal turmoil. It reflects the country's military prowess and its ability to defend its sovereignty. In today's global scenario, it is imperative for countries to constantly upgrade their military equipment and surveillance systems. India too, must strive to build a strong and well-equipped military force to fortify its security, intelligence and territorial integrity. In light of the current geopolitical landscape, it is imperative for India to assert its autonomy in the region. To safeguard its border regions, India must not only possess modern defence equipment but also the strategic autonomy to acquire and maintain such equipment. A self-reliant defence industry would not only enhance India's defence capabilities but also bolster the nation's economy.

Let us look at some of the recent 'Make in India' category of weapon systems and equipment inducted/ordered by the Indian armed forces, propelling India's vision to be self-reliant.

• INS Vikrant - Red letter day for 'AatmaNirbhar Bharat'

India's first indigenous aircraft carrier INS Vikrant was commissioned by the Prime Minister at Cochin Shipyard Limited in September 2022. The commissioning showcased the country's growing prowess of indigenous manufacturing and a major milestone in the path towards 'AatmaNirbhar Bharat'. With 76% indigenous content, the 262.5m long and 61.6 m wide, ship is equipped with state-of-the-art equipment and systems (a fully-fledged state-of-the-art Medical Complex with the latest medical equipment facilities that include major modular OT, emergency modular OT, physiotherapy clinic, ICU, laboratories, CT scanner, X-Ray

With this strategy, over the years, India's capital expenditure in defence budget is increasing, and within that, the percentage reserved for indigenous procurement has also been increasing. In financial year 2021-22, the government overachieved its target of indigenous defence procurement and utilised 65.5% (vs. budgeted target of 64%) of capital acquisition budget (i.e. Rs 74,015 crore of revised budget of Rs 1.13 lakh crore) on procurements through the Indian industry.

For FY23, the government has allocated 68% of the defence capital expenditure budget (i.e. Rs 84,598 crore) for domestic procurement. It has till now released lists of over 650 defence items slated to be manufactured locally, which include Light Combat Aircraft (LCA), Tanks, Vehicles, Submarines, Missiles, Satellites, Corvette, Radars, Avionics etc. As per government estimates, orders worth Rs 7 lakh crore are likely to be placed in the next five to seven years as part of these items.

machines, Dental complex, Isolation ward and telemedicine facilities etc.), designed for a crew of around 1,600 officers and sailors. It has a large number of indigenous equipment and machinery, involving major industrial houses in the country as well as over 100 MSMEs.

INS Vikrant is the largest ship ever built in the maritime history of India. The carrier is designed with a very high degree of automation for machinery operations, ship navigation and survivability. It is capable of operating an air wing consisting of 30 aircraft comprising MiG-29K fighter jets, Kamov-31, and MH-60R multi-role helicopters, in addition to indigenously manufactured Advanced Light Helicopters and Light Combat Aircraft Navy. Using a novel aircraft-operation mode known as Short Take-Off But Arrested Recovery, INS Vikrant is equipped with a ski-jump for launching aircraft and a set of 'arrestor wires' for their recovery onboard.

• Main Battle Tank-Arjun

Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) has designed and developed Main Battle Tank (MBT) Arjun, a multi-disciplinary Armoured Fighting Vehicle, which has already been inducted into the Indian Army. Heavy Vehicle Factory (HVF) at Avadi, Chennai is the production agency of MBT Arjun. It is a state-of-the-art tank with superior firepower, high mobility, and excellent protection. The MBT Arjun Mk-1A has been designed & developed by Combat Vehicles Research and Development Establishment (CVRDE), along with other laboratories of DRDO within two years (2010-12).

The superior armour-defeating capability of the indigenously developed Fin Stabilized Armour Piercing Discarding Sabot (FSAPDS) ammunition and 120 mm calibre rifled gun give MBT ARJUN an edge over contemporary world tanks. It is a computer-controlled integrated fire control system that incorporates day-cum-night stabilised sighting system which guarantees a very high first-round hit probability and reduced reaction time to bring effective fire on targets.

LCH 'Prachanda'

In a big boost to self-reliance in Defence, Prachanda-Light Combat Helicopter (LCH), designed and developed by Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL), was inducted into the Indian Air Force (IAF) in Jodhpur in October 2022. The LCH is the first indigenous Multi-Role Combat Helicopter which has potent ground attack and aerial combat capability. It possesses modern stealth characteristics, robust armour protection, formidable night attack capability, and crash-worthy landing gear for better survivability. Onboard advanced navigation systems, guns tailored for close combat and potent air-to-air missiles make the LCH especially suited for the modern battlefield. It is capable of operating from high-altitude terrain and carrying out precision strikes at high-altitude targets.

Prachanda meets the requirements of modern warfare and necessary quality parameters under varied conditions of operations. It is capable of self-protection, carrying a wide variety of ammunition and delivering it to the field quickly. This versatile helicopter perfectly meets the needs of our armed forces in world which can land and take off at an altitude of 5,000 metres, with a considerable load of weapons and fuel. The LCH can perform a range of roles, including combat search and rescue, destruction of enemy air defence and counter-insurgency operations in the jungle and urban environments. LCH Prachanda is a testimony to India's growing prowess in indigenous design, development & manufacturing and a significant milestone in the path towards 'AatmaNirbhar Bharat' in Defence.

• Missile Destroyers/ Frigates

The Raksha Mantri launched two frontline warships of the Indian Navy - 'Surat' and 'Udaygiri' - at Mazagon Docks Limited, Mumbai in May 2022. 'Surat' is the fourth Stealth-Guided Missile Destroyer of the P15B class, while 'Udaygiri' is the second Stealth Frigate of P17A class. Project 15B class of ships are the next-generation stealth guided-missile destroyers of the Indian Navy which are follow-on class of the weapon-intensive P15A (Kolkata Class) Destroyers. P17A Frigates are warships that are a follow-on class of the P17 (Shivalik Class) Frigates with improved stealth features, advanced weapons & sensors and platform management systems. Both warships have been designed in-house by the Directorate of Naval Design (DND) and built at MDL, Mumbai. Among the most technologically advanced missile carriers in the world, the warships will cater to present as well as future requirements.

Y-12705 (Mormugao), the second ship of Project 15B, was delivered to the Indian Navy in November 2022, while the fifth Stealth Frigate 'Taragiri' of P17A was launched in September 2022. P15B destroyers incorporate new design concepts for improved survivability, sea-keeping and manoeuvrability. Enhanced stealth has also been achieved, making the ships difficult to detect. With a significantly increased indigenous content, P15B destroyers are a hallmark of self-reliance in warship design and building, and a shining example of AatmaNirbhar Bharat. Taragiri has been indigenously designed with state-of-the-art weapons, sensors, an advanced action information system, an integrated platform management system, world-class modular living spaces, a sophisticated power distribution system and a host of other advanced features. It is also fitted with a supersonic surface-to-surface missile system.

• Diving Support/Survey Vessels

Two Diving Support Vessels (DSVs), Nistar and Nipun, built by Hindustan Shipyard Ltd (HSL), Visakhapatnam, were launched in September 2022. DSVs equipped with an array of complex Diving Support systems and Deep Submergence Rescue Vessels are being deployed for deep sea diving and submarine rescue operations. The ships are also capable of conducting Search and Rescue operations and carrying out Helicopter Operations at sea. They were launched by achieving approximately 80% indigenous content, a major step towards self-reliance. Indigenously designed and built at HSL, these ships are a true testimonial to 'AatmaNirbharta'. They are self-sustaining platforms which can operate at sea for prolonged durations. This project was being executed with support from Indian industry primarily MSME firms who have supplied Yard material, equipment and services. HSL extensively used the GeM portal for procuring material and services for the project.

'Ikshak', the third of the four Survey Vessels (Large) (SVL) Project, being built by GRSE/L&T for the Indian Navy was launched in November 2022 in Chennai. The ship has been named 'Ikshak' which means 'Guide'. The ship has been named to signify the contribution of the Survey ships towards facilitating safe passage for Mariners at Sea. SVL ships will replace the existing Sandhayak Class survey ships with new-generation hydrographic equipment to collect oceanographic data. With a capability to carry four Survey Motor Boats and an integral helicopter, the primary role of the ship would be to undertake full-scale coastal and deep-water hydrographic surveys of ports and navigational channels. The ships would also be deployed for collecting oceanographic and geophysical data for defence as well as civil applications. In their secondary role, the ships are capable of providing limited defence, besides serving as hospital ships during emergencies.

• ICG-Offshore Patrol Vessel:

In a significant development aimed at bolstering the maritime security of the nation, the Indian Coast Guard (ICG) commissioned 'Saksham', the fifth Coast Guard Ship in the series of 105 M-Class offshore patrol vessels, in March 2022. 'Saksham', which means 'capable', is a manifestation of ICG's will and commitment to the 'Yatra, Tatra, Sarvatra' adage towards the maritime interest of the Nation.

The ship displaces approximately 2,350 tons (gross registered tonnage) and is propelled by two 9,100 KW diesel engines to attain a maximum speed of 26 knots. Saksham has an endurance of 6,000 nautical miles at an economical speed. The state-of-art offshore patrol vessel uses totally indigenous steering gear and gearbox, which were earlier imported. The ship has been designed and developed by Goa Shipyard Limited (GSL) for Coast Guard and is fitted with twin-engine helicopter and four high-speed boats including two inflatable boats for boarding operations, search & rescue, law enforcement and maritime patrol. The ship is also capable of carrying limited pollution response equipment to contain oil spills in the seas.

• Def Expo 2022

advanced technology navigation and communication equipment, sensors and machinery. Entirely designed in-house by the sunrise sector for investment on the global scale. DefExpo 2022 was the first-ever edition exclusively for Indian companies. Indian companies, Indian subsidiaries of Foreign OEMs, Division of companies registered in India, exhibitors having joint venture with an Indian company were considered as Indian participants. The theme of 12th DefExpo was 'Path to Pride', which is in line with the Prime Minister's vision to transform India into a strong and self-reliant nation by supporting, showcasing and forging partnerships for the Indian Aerospace and defence manufacturing sectors with Indian as well as global customers. The event showcased the might of the domestic defence industry which is now powering the 'Make in India, Make for the World' resolve of the Government and the nation at large.

manufacture low-tech products under licence and supervision from parent companies abroad.

The organisation that made a humble beginning soon after independence in dilapidated colonial era barracks in vicinity of South Block has over the time grown into strong well knit network of about 50 self accounting laboratories and establishments, each headed by an experienced scientist as its Director, with each lab focusing on a group of specific, closely related areas of science and technology.

The DRDO headquarters now located in a magnificent green complex at Rajaji Marg in the National Capital functions as hub for apex level planning and management of nation's defence R&D efforts and synergistic coordination of activities of various laboratories while acting as a bridge between the organisation and rest of the government departments.

DRDO is part of the Department of Defence R&D under the Ministry of Defence. Besides DRDO, the department has under its umbrella several other Strategic Science Organisations each focusing on a highly specialised area of defence R&D. Aeronautical Development Agency ADA for example has its focus on indigenous development of Combat Aircrafts such as Tejas and its variants, AMCA and unmanned combat aircrafts. Secretary Department of Defence R&D, an experienced scientist of exceptional calibre is also the Chairman DRDO. This empowerment of the Chairman DRDO with the post of Secretary, Government of India, ensures functional synergy among various constituents of the department while ensuring resonance with the rest of the Government and the national policies.

Vision and Mission

DRDO has been working with a mission to design, develop and lead to production of state-of-the-art sensors, weapon systems, platforms and allied equipment for our country's defence services; to provide technological solutions to the services for optimising their combat effectiveness; to promote well-being of the troops; to develop infrastructure and committed quality manpower and to build strong indigenous technology base. It has been wholeheartedly focusing on empowering the nation with state-of-the-art indigenous Defence technologies and systems as reflected in its vision statement. The cumulative production value of DRDO developed systems approved under the capital head of expenditure alone stands at over Rs. 4,00,000 crore; the cost of acquisition of similar systems if imported would have been many times more. The figure does not include Strategic Systems like Agni and similar series of ballistic missiles (for obvious reasons), nor does it include the value of products procured by the services under the revenue head of expenditure from our country's own industries. The real output of DRDO's efforts towards nation building will come out to be many times more than all these added together if its contributions towards growth of R&D and industrial ecosystem and the consequential immense impact on direct and indirect employment generation are also taken into account.

Spectrum of DRDO Developed Products

The DRDO has developed a wide range of products including Combat Aircrafts, Nuclear Powered Submarines such as Arihant, Strategic and Tactical Missiles such as Agni series, K15, Astra, Akash, Ballistic Missile Defence Systems, Anti-Satellite Weapon System (ASAT) Armoured Combat Vehicles, Field Guns, Mobility Systems such as Bridging Systems, Sensors such as Radars for the three Services, Sonars for Battleships and Submarines, Torpedoes and Anti Ship Mines, Electro Optical Sensors, Laser based instruments and sensors, Electronic Warfare Systems, specialised circuits and Systems on Chip (SoC), Secure Communication Systems, Robotics and Artificial Intelligence, Cyber Defence Systems, Directed Energy Weapons (DEWs) and a wide range of Soldier Support Systems and Services including products and services for defence against Chemical Biological Radiation and Nuclear Warfare.

With an eye on futuristic technologies, the DRDO has been initiating work on such required technologies well in advance. Artificial Intelligence is one such area. Even when artificial intelligence was considered more of a fiction rather than reality, a DRDO laboratory namely the Centre for Artificial Intelligence and Robotics (CAIR) had commenced work in the right direction.

Range of R&D Activities

The R&D activities of the DRDO cover nearly all the Science, Technology and Engineering subjects as well as Psychology as it has been mandated to cater to the complete spectrum of needs of our Armed Forces, including requirements of soldiers as human beings. That brings in the importance of various Life Sciences subjects though the bulk of the induction has been in engineering branches.

Human Resources and Job Opportunities

In its pursuit of ensuring the nation's 'self-reliance in defence with excellence', DRDO's human resources are its most valuable asset built through elaborate selection processes and further continuous processes of training in required fields that include technologies and technology management.

DRDS Cadre: Induction for DRDS (Defence Research and Development Service) cadre is largely at the entry level rank of Scientist 'B', a Group A (Gazetted) post, though if needed, lateral induction at higher ranks is also permissible. The minimum qualification requirement at the entry level is a First Class Bachelor's Degree in respective engineering/technology stream or a First Class Post Graduate Degree in respective basic science subjects. Recruitment and Assessment Centre (RAC) is the designated authority for selections and performance based promotions of DRDS scientists in the ranks of Scientist 'B' to Scientist 'G', Outstanding Scientist and Distinguished Scientist. Promotions are approved by the competent authority on the basis of recommendations of RAC and are based on a flexible complementing scheme whereby posts held by the promotee is upgraded to the next higher rank.

Technical and Allied Cadres: The Centre for Personnel Talent Management CEPTAM is the designated authority for conducting centralized selections of all DRTC (DRDO Technical Cadre), Admin & Allied Cadre (Group 'B' and Group 'C'). It is also entrusted with assessments for promotion of DRTC personnel and organising their training.

Trainings and Fellowships: DRDO also has its own institutes namely Defence Institute of Advanced Technology DIAT - a deemed University, and Institute for Technology Management

ITM. Besides, inhouse training programs at central level in these two institutes and CEPTAM, and continuing education programs at laboratory levels, scientists are also deputed to reputed institutions and organisations outside DRDO, both within the country and abroad for training in specific areas. DRDO personnel are also encouraged to enhance their educational qualifications in their respective fields of specialisations. DRDO also offers research fellowships for a limited period of time to bright individuals. Please follow the link <https://www.drdo.gov.in/research-fellow> for more details. (Readers are encouraged to visit the relevant websites for more details).

DRDO Labs and Management Clusters

The DRDO laboratories while remaining primary thrust generators behind drives for AatmaNirbharta in defence in their respective specialised fields of defence R&D, these are grouped into seven Technology Clusters, each headed by a Director General - a scientist generally of the rank of Distinguished Scientist or Outstanding Scientist, who facilitates synergy among cluster labs as well as supports Chairman DRDO in facilitating synergy among various clusters.

These seven clusters are: Aeronautical Systems (Aero), Armament & Combat Engineering Systems (ACE), Micro Electronic Devices and Computational Systems & Cyber Systems (MED & CoS), Electronics and Communication Systems (ECS), Life Sciences (LS), Micro Electronic Devices, Missiles and Strategic Systems (MSS) and the Naval Systems and Materials (NS & M).

The corporate management that functions at the headquarters level are similarly grouped into six clusters of directorates namely Human Resource (HR), Production Coordination and Services Interaction (PC & SI), Resource Management (RM), System Analysis and Modelling (SAM), Technology Management (TM), and BrahMos.

Handholding Industry Partners

Defence industrial base in our country, as stated earlier, was nearly non-existent. Defence Public Sector Undertakings functioning under the Department of Defence Production were engaged mainly in licensed manufacturing of imported products mostly on built-to-print basis. Involvement of private sector industries as a matter of Government policy in production of finished defence products/complete systems was permitted since 2001 only. Until then, since independence, it remained the exclusive domain of Defence Public Sector Undertakings (DPSUs) and Ordnance Factories. The private sector industries on the other hand could take up production of only the components/ subsystems. Notably, manufacturing doesn't normally come under the permitted domains of the DRDO. Nevertheless, prolonged interactions of industries with DRDO for making DRDO developed components and subsystems as well as for key fabrication and testing equipment that were not available in the country and were denied by foreign suppliers led to significant expansion of our country's industrial base in both quantitative and qualitative terms. Numbers of such industries run into thousands and include private sector large scale industries, MSMEs as well as DPSUs and StartUps and has been growing rapidly. Thus, each new product developed by DRDO when inducted by the services has a multiplying effect on employment generation in the manufacturing partner industries. The funds spent on procurement of such indigenous products remain within the country and lead to wealth and employment generation. The provision of 68% of the capital procurement budget of the armed forces for procurements from the domestic defence industry together with keeping 411 items under the positive indigenisation lists announced by the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi will go a long way in enhancing induction of the indigenous system in our armed forces.

Technology Development Fund (TDF): This is one such scheme being implemented through DRDO that encourages our own MSMEs and StartUps to take up defence R&D projects aimed at fulfilling specific needs of the Ministry of Defence. The scheme allows funding upto 90% cost of such projects upto a maximum of Rs. 10 crore. Please refer to the TDF website for more details. Establishment of DIA-CoE during recent years will further boost capabilities of our industries, potentially taking them to next higher levels of venturing into inhouse Defence R&D.

Development cum Production Partner Scheme: DRDO also engages industry as DcPP, Development Partners (DP), Production Agency (PA) during the execution of projects and programmes. Currently, about 20,000 industries are engaged in the development of various systems, sub-systems and technologies directly and indirectly. DRDO has also identified 108 systems and subsystems for exclusive design and development by the Indian industry. DRDO technically supports the industry for realising these systems on a requirement basis.

Patent Transfer: To further encourage the Indian industry, most of DRDO's patents and relevant intellectual publications are available for the domestic industry free of cost. Indian industry is utilising DRDO test facilities and proof & field firing ranges for ensuring quality defence products.

DRDO-Academia Connect

Academic Institutions and Industry have been key partners during the entire journey of DRDO since its inception. Interactions and collaborations with academic Institutions go well beyond their role of being quality human resource providers and engagements for carrying out basic science research. In many cases, deeper collaborations with partners from academia were instrumental in the development of niche technologies that were denied to our nation. DRDO is working with more than 250 academic institutes on different defence R&D problems for basic, applied and targeted research. Presently, fifteen DRDO - Industry - Academia Centres of Excellence (DIA-CoE) are existing for sustained collaborative R&D in specific areas of technologies.

DRDO has multiple modes of engagement with industry and academia. Some of them are extramural research, directed research, DcPP (Development Cum Production Partner) and TDF (Technology Development Fund) for the development of advanced technologies and systems. The budget of FY 2022-23 witnessed another major step of earmarking 25% of defence R&D budget for engagement of industry, StartUps and academia.

In tune with its AatmaNirbhar Bharat initiative the present government has launched several game changer schemes that are also going to assist in fulfilling the aim of turning Bharat, till a few years back, the world's topmost importer of defence products, into a major exporter of such products. Another game changer impact of such schemes is going to be the percolation of Defence R&D culture to our country's academia and industries on an unprecedented scale.

Procurement Policy

A smooth, efficient, and well defined procurement/acquisition procedure is a pre-requisite for lending impetus to defence manufacturing locally. The procurement of defence-related equipment and services by the Indian Government is governed by a set of rules known as the Defence Acquisition Procedure (DAP). The DAP 2020 (which replaced the Defence Procurement Procedure 2016) prioritises indigenously designed, developed and manufactured category of defence procurement. The main categories of defence procurement are enlisted below in order of priority.

(a) Buy (Indian- IDDM) - refers to the acquisition of products from an Indian vendor that have been Indigenously Designed, Developed and Manufactured (IDDM) with a minimum of 50% Indigenous Content (IC) on cost basis of the base contract price.

(b) Buy (Indian) - acquisition of products from an Indian vendor which may not have been designed and developed indigenously, but having 60% IC (Indigenous Content) on cost basis of the base contract price.

(c) Buy and Make (Indian) - an initial acquisition of equipment in Fully Formed (FF) state from Indian vendor(s) engaged in a tie-up with a foreign Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM). This is followed by indigenous production in a phased manner involving Transfer of Technology (ToT). Under this category of acquisition, a minimum of 50% IC is required on cost basis of the 'Make' portion of the contract.

(d) Buy (Global-Manufacture in India)- an outright purchase of equipment from foreign vendors followed by indigenous manufacture of the entire/part of the equipment. It also necessitates indigenous manufacture of spares/ assemblies/ sub-assemblies as well as local maintenance along with Repair and Overhaul (MRO) facility for the equipment. This is to be done through the foreign vendors' subsidiary in India or through a Joint Venture or through an Indian Production Agency (PA) with Transfer of Technology, meeting a minimum of 50% IC on cost basis of the base contract price.

(e) Buy (Global) - outright purchase of equipment from foreign or Indian vendors. In case of procurement through foreign vendors, Government to Government (G2G) route/ Inter Government Agreement (IGA) may also be adopted, for equipment meeting strategic/ long term requirements. An Indian Vendor participating in this category would be required to meet minimum 30% IC, failing which such vendor would be required to discharge offsets as applicable in the case. Foreign vendors will need to discharge offsets in all Buy (Global) case.

'Offsets' Clause: The 'offsets' clause requires foreign defence companies that win contracts to invest a portion of the contract value back into the Indian defence industry. The goal of the offsets clause is to increase the competitiveness of the Indian defence industry, enhance technology transfer, and promote the development of indigenous defence manufacturing capabilities. The offset requirement is typically between 30% and 100% of the contract value, depending on the type of contract and the nature of the equipment being procured. Offsets may be fulfilled through a variety of means, including the direct purchase of equipment or technology from Indian defence firms, the transfer of technology to Indian firms, or the establishment of joint ventures with Indian defence companies.

Depending upon factors such as the Indian industry's capability, access to technology, time frame required and available for development, three other categories have been enunciated in the DAP which can be pursued in isolation, in sequence or in tandem with any of the five main categories.

- Make and Innovation
- D&D (Design and Develop)
- SPM (Strategic Partnership Model)

The provision of 'Make' category of capital acquisition in defence procurement is a vital pillar for realising the vision behind the 'Make in India' initiative, by fostering indigenous capabilities through design & development of required defence equipment/product/systems or upgrades/sub-systems/components/parts by both public and private sector industry/organisation in a faster time frame. There are two sub- categories of 'Make' Procedure:

'Make-I' (Government Funded): Projects under 'Make-I' sub-category will involve Government funding of 90%, released in a phased manner and based on the progress of the scheme, as per terms agreed between Ministry of Defence and the vendor.

'Make-II' (Industry Funded): Projects under 'Make-II' category will involve prototype development of equipment/system/platform or their upgrades or their sub-systems/ sub-assembly/ assemblies/ components, primarily for import substitution/innovative solutions, for which no Government funding will be provided for prototype development purposes.

Positive Indigenisation List

India has a list of items that it considers to be of strategic importance for the defence sector, and which it aims to indigenise (that is, produce domestically). This list, updated by the Ministry of Defence from time to time, is known as the "Positive Indigenisation List" or the "Buy (Indian-IDDM) Category" for which there would be an embargo on imports beyond the timelines indicated against them. The list includes a wide range of items, including aircraft and aircraft parts, missiles and missile systems, naval vessels and equipment, land systems and equipment, electronics and communications equipment, and others. The Ministry of Defence first unveiled a Positive Indigenisation List in August 2020 and followed it up with one each in May 2021, April 2022, and October 2022.

Simplification of Industrial Licensing Process

Manufacturing in defence sector is governed through industrial licensing under the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 and Arms Act 1959/Arm Rules 2016. Prior to 2001, manufacturing in defence sector was limited to public sector companies only. However, in 2001, the then Government allowed 100% participation by Indian private sector in defence manufacturing subject to licensing. Recently, the government announced the simplification of the industrial licensing process. According to official data, after simplification of the process, a total of 595 industrial licences have been issued to 366 private companies operating in the defence sector till October 2022. The simplification process led to cost reduction in repeat orders which was seen as a major impediment.

Liberalisation of Foreign Direct Investment (FDI)

In September 2020, the Government liberalised and allowed FDI (Foreign Direct Investment) in defence under automatic route up to 74% and up to 100% through Government route wherever it is likely to result in access to modern technology. Since the notification of revised FDI policy, the total FDI inflow reported till May, 2022 is approximately Rs. 494 crores. The Department of Defence Production (DDP) has brought in number of policy reforms and outreach programmes for attracting foreign direct investment.

Promoting Exports to Fuel Indigenisation

Relying solely on domestic demand limits the domestic industry's scope for investment in R&D and production. Therefore, Indigenisation efforts are supplemented by the strategy for defence exports without which the economic base of the defence industry would be difficult to sustain in the present competitive environment. Of late, India's defence export has seen a massive growth (six-fold increase between 2017 and 2021) backed by policies to support the export of military hardware to friendly foreign countries. In 2021-22, India's defence exports stood at a record Rs 14,000 crores. It has been estimated that by 2025, defence exports will cross Rs 25,000 crores. India currently exports defence equipment to more than 75 countries. The draft Defence Production and Export Promotion Policy 2020, is currently undergoing different stages of approval. The policy will serve as a new roadmap to India's defence manufacturing and exports.

Lines of Credit

The EXIM Bank provides LoCs, subject to prior approval, to overseas financial institutions, regional development banks, sovereign governments, and other overseas entities. These LoCs enable buyers in partner countries to import developmental and infrastructure projects, equipment, goods, and services from India, on deferred credit terms. The Ministry of External Affairs leverages this Line of Credit (LoC) facility to promote exports including defence systems and equipments from India. Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Maldives, Mauritius, Mongolia, Myanmar, Nepal, Seychelles, Sri Lanka are countries that have received Lines of Credit from India in recent years for different developmental purposes including import of defence equipments from India.

Defence Industrial Corridors

Government intends to develop a robust defence manufacturing ecosystem including supply chain for giving push to production and testing & certification to create economies of scale and facilitate development of internationally competitive enterprises in the country. With this aim, two Defence Industrial Corridors have been created in Uttar Pradesh and Tamil Nadu. The state governments of these regions have also developed Aerospace & Defence policies to attract private companies and foreign Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs) to invest in these corridors. So far, INR 2,242 crore (about USD 309 million) and INR 3,847 crore (about USD 528 million) have been invested in the Uttar Pradesh and Tamil Nadu Defence Industrial Corridors, respectively.

SRIJAN Defence Portal

The Ministry of Defence has developed a portal named www.srijandefence.gov.in opening opportunities for the private sector to become partners of DPSUs (Defence Public Sector Undertakings) and the armed forces in the Indigenisation efforts. It is a non-transactional online market place platform. The DPSUs display items in this portal which they have imported or are going to import as well as those items that they plan to indigenise in the coming years. The private sector can express their interest to locally design, develop and manufacture such items as per their capability or through joint ventures with the Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs).

iDEX-Encouraging Start-Ups

The iDEX (Innovations for Defence Excellence) framework launched in 2018 is being implemented by Defence Innovation Organisation (DIO), established under Department of Defence Production. The program aims to support Start-Ups in the defence sector by providing grants for the development of high-end solutions. This support is available for projects that require funding between Rs 1.5 crore and Rs 10 crore. The program focuses on the development of sub-systems for the armed forces in a number of key areas, particularly Artificial Intelligence (AI). Within a short span of time iDEX, which has also been awarded the prestigious Prime Minister Award for Public Policy in Innovation Category for the year 2021, has emerged as a game changer in the defence eco-system through its flagship programmes like DISC, Prime, and Open Challenges (OC). iDEX has been able to build the required momentum and generate a critical mass of Start-Ups in the defence sector. Till date, iDEX has received more than 6,500 applications from individual innovators, MSMEs and Start-Ups. It has also been able to generate thousands of jobs and attract India's talent back to the country. The iDEX is working at path-breaking pace to ensure that its agreements with the Start-Ups and innovators reach logical conclusions timely, eventually opening a myriad of options for the budding soon-to-be-unicorns and at the same time, addressing the requirement of the Services.

Corporatisation of Ordnance Factory Boards (OFBs)

The Corporatisation of Ordnance Factory Boards

(OFBs) refers to the process of converting the Ordnance Factory Boards, which were earlier under the administrative control of the Ministry of Defence, into 100% government-owned corporate entities. Seven new Defence Public Sector Undertakings (DPSUs) have been carved out of the erstwhile Ordnance Factories. These companies had commenced operations from October 01, 2021. The erstwhile OFBs were strategic asset of the country, and with its infrastructure and skilled workforce, it played a valuable role in the national security. However, in recent years, there have been concerns raised by the Armed Forces about the high costs, inconsistent quality and delays in product delivery. As a government department, the OFB was not held accountable for profits. The outdated procedures, practices, paperwork, and regulations had become irrelevant. In order to address these issues, it was necessary to eliminate these practices and corporatisation was the best solution, according to Defence Minister Shri Rajnath Singh. The corporatisation of OFB is expected to bring about greater efficiency, transparency and accountability in the functioning of the new units, and to enable them to compete effectively in the global market. It will also help to enhance their capability to produce advanced technology and equipment as per the requirement of Indian armed forces.

Handholding of New DPSUs

The Government has taken steps to initially handhold and support the new DPSUs in starting their business as corporate entities. In this regard, outstanding indents with erstwhile OFB were grandfathered and converted into deemed contracts valuing about Rs 70,776 crore for five years. These deemed contracts provide annual targets for delivery of products. Every year, 60% of amount pertaining to that year's target would be paid by the Services to the new DPSUs as advance. The advances provide the working capital to the newly constituted DPSUs. With more functional and financial autonomy, these new DPSUs are focusing on widening their customer base, including exports to augment the volume of defence production. The DPSUs are pursuing export opportunity through interaction with Defence Attaches at various Indian Embassies and Missions abroad.

Role of DRDO

The present industry base for defence production in India consists of 1,800 MSMEs along with DPSUs, large-scale industries and StartUps. The Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) has undertaken major initiatives to involve the Indian industry as Development cum Production Partners, offering its technology at nominal cost. Policy for free access of DRDO patents by the Indian industry has been promulgated. Technology Development Fund (TDF) Scheme also funds industries, especially StartUps and MSMEs upto an amount of Rs 50 crore for innovation, research and development of defence technologies in the field of defence and Aerospace. Till now, 64 projects have been awarded under TDF scheme to various MSMEs, StartUps and large industries amounting to total projects cost of approx. Rs 280 crore.

Conclusion

The value of indigenous defence production for Financial Years 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 are Rs 84,643 crore and Rs 94,846 crore respectively. India's push towards self-reliance, or Indigenisation, has come at a critical juncture as recent global developments have underscored the risks of depending on foreign nations for vital imports. The ongoing conflicts have brought to the fore the significance of new-age defence equipment like drones, anti-drone systems, missiles, air-defence systems, among others. Countries at war have found it challenging to secure steady supplies in times of crisis. Moreover, localising production is crucial to create large and sustainable opportunities for domestic players. By utilising the technological capabilities developed by academic and research institutions, India has made significant strides in enhancing the potential of its industry. However, there is still scope for improvement in terms of new product development and scaling up production. The curbs on foreign imports must now be complemented with structured government policies that aid the private sector in developing India's military industry. Without this support, our aspirations may remain unfulfilled.

Defence Research & Development ...

Dare to Dream Contest: Innovations are key to development of cutting edge defence technologies. With a vision to promote innovations in defence technologies, DRDO has been launching Dare to Dream Contest every year since 2019. Aim has been to bring together innovators, entrepreneurs, individuals above 18 years and start-ups (recognised by DPIIT and with Indian founders) for innovative ideas in the field of Defence. According to a recent MoD press release, under the past three Dare to Dream contests, a total of 52 individuals and 34 start-ups have been awarded out of 5,637 applications received. A total of 7 projects had been sanctioned and awarded to start-ups of Dare to Dream contest winners. The selection criteria for evaluation of the entries are completeness of proposal, scientific soundness, design completeness, merit, technological readiness level achieved and innovation. The selected individuals/companies are getting benefitted as DRDO supports them to realise awarded ideas into Prototype through TDF scheme.

Thus DRDO has been driving innovations in the field of defence technologies. There has been a distinct and visible shift during the past several years in Government policies whereby imports of defence products are being minimised, thus allowing indigenous systems to get inducted. Launching of schemes promoting AatmaNirbharta in the defence sector is leading to rapid growth of our own defence industries. Implications for our nation's youth are opening up of unprecedented opportunities for employment and career growth even as our country moves ahead with greater pace on the path of regaining its glory and immense prosperity.

BEST ENTRY FOR

ISSUE DATED 7 - 13 January 2023

Question: Since 1985, India has been observing 12th of January, the birth anniversary of Swami Vivekananda, as the National Youth Day. The role of youth is crucial for a country's progress and over the last few years Indian youth have scaled new heights in numerous spheres. What do you think should be the role of youth, as a collective entity, in any particular sphere of national development during the Amrit Kaal?

Ishan Pandey

Ghaziabad (U.P)

On National Youth Day, we celebrate the birth anniversary of Swami Vivekananda, who said "Education is the manifestation of the perfection already in man." These words remind us of the importance of education and self-improvement in the pursuit of a better world. It is only when one looks at the things deeply that a greater and hitherto relatively less discussed challenge emerges.

Although India has a rich philosophical tradition, there seems to be a lack of engagement with the depths of these ideas. It is somewhat peculiar that a nation as religiously diverse as India has almost no courses dedicated to comparative religion in many major educational institutions. Studying the similarities and differences of these faith systems at a philosophical level would not only help strengthen the youth's connection with each other, but to also appreciate the genuine points of concern that require attention instead of being mired in socio-political controversies.

The rapid development of artificial intelligence demonstrates the potential of the human mind. It also shows that ethical progress has occurred rather sluggishly in comparison to the growth of technology. A focus on our philosophical roots could also help the youth derive potential links between the ancient and the modern philosophies, thoughts and ideas.

As we witness the Amrit Kaal unfold, one can hope that the youth will discover the balance between the sustenance of the edifice and the production of new materials that only help strengthen the nation in the long-term.

India Hosts 'Voice of Global South Summit' with Virtual Participation of 120+ Countries

India hosted the first 'Voice of Global South Summit' on 12th January 2023. Addressing the inaugural session, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi said, "We developing countries are also concerned about the increasing fragmentation of the international landscape. These geopolitical tensions distract us from focusing on our development priorities. They cause sharp swings in international prices of food, fuel, fertilizers and other commodities. To address this geopolitical fragmentation, we urgently need a fundamental reform of the major international organisations, including the United Nations Security Council and the Bretton Woods Institutions. These reforms should focus on giving voice to the concerns of the developing world, and reflect the realities of the 21st Century. India's G20 Presidency will attempt to voice the views of the Global South on these important issues." The Summit saw the participation of more than 120 developing countries - the largest-ever virtual gathering of the Global South.

Network Planning Group Gives Go Ahead to 3 GatiShakti Projects

The Network Planning Group, NPG, constituted under the PM GatiShakti National Master Plan has examined and recommended three projects for implementation. These three projects include a 4-Lane Accessed Controlled Greenfield Highway as part of the Nagpur-Vijaywada corridor, new rail connectivity projects connecting Barejadi Nandej to Sanand in Gujarat, and Barbil, Barsuan and Nayagrah in Odisha. The 4-lane project will improve connectivity to 21 economic nodes, such as mega food parks, fishing seafood clusters and pharma clusters. The proposed alignment of the highway is also estimated to increase average speed from 40 kmph to 80 kmph, reduce travel time from 17 hours to 8 hours and create 11.9 crore employment opportunities after completion. Regarding the Barejadi Nandej to Sanand railway project, the NPG observed that construction of a 4th line is essential to achieve overall operational efficiency between the Viramgam-Sabaramati-Ahmedabad-Geratpur sections as the Ahmedabad station has been one of the busiest stations on the Western Railway Corridor for freight movement. Meanwhile, the proposed Barbil-Barsuan-Nayagarh Railway line, covering a distance of 181 km, will connect major iron mines in the region and boost steel trade in Eastern India. The proposed alignment will see 15 new stations being built in the vicinity of major mining sights such as Sundergarh and Keonjhar.
